

right the earth: a creativity intensive

bored with your practice? blocked? don't have one? want ot get one started? join author, editor, and community-builder, Bernadette Wagner, for an afternoon's immersion in the arts. honour Earth Day by connecting your passion and compassion for our planet to a guided exploration in creative expression through text and textiles, music and movement, doodles and drawings, graphics and more. no experience necessary. pre-registration required.

our earth  our future

1-4 pm 21 apr
sunset united 177 sunset dr

registration fees:
earlybird $60
after apr 14 $75

Bernadette Wagner is an award-winning author and community builder whose work has appeared on many platforms. She's participated in international arts projects, served on several nonprofit boards and led workshops and classes for children and adults for more than 30 years. Her collection of poetry, This hot place (Thistledown 2010) was shortlisted for the Sask First Book Award. Her next book, The Dry Valley, is forthcoming from Radiant Press in 2019.

registration & information: bit.ly/righttheearth wagmitfam@gmail.com
306.550.7023